Bonds — Government and State bonds were dull and steady.

Stocks—The new week on the Stock Exchange opened with a dull market, which presented few features of interexchange opened with a dull market, which presented few features of interest. The fact that today is a holiday in London, together with the usual May Day changes, was responsible for the limited business and the hopeful views of the situation which were so prevalent toward the end of last week were wanting today, the bears having everything their own way. A everything their own way. A fractional rally occurred in the forenoon, but with that one exception there was no stay to the steady yield-ing of values from the opening to the close. Money was bid up to 8 per cent in the last hour, to offset which cent in the last hour, to offset which sterling exchange rates were decreased ic, but the latter received no notice, while the former seemed to aid the prevailing weakness. New England in the fornoon and Union Pacific later in the day received special attention from the bears. Fort Worth and Denver was specially strong, under the support of the clique, and it is der the support of the clique, and it is the only stock showing an advance this evening. The market opened wesk at concessions from Saturday's final figures of #@# per cent. The market was weak throughout, although a slight rally occurred toward 11 o'clock, and the strength displayed by Fort Worth and Denver kept the market firm until noon. After that time it was more animated and re-thing else is lower, and New England is down 21, Hocking Coal 21, Wheel ing and Lake Erie 14, Union Pacific 11 per cent. Railroad bonds were firm; saler, $1,956,000. Green Bay incomes con-tributed $363,000, and Adantic and Pacific incomes $160,000. Most of the list show fractional advances. Central Iowa firsts, coupon off, rose 2 to 94; Jersey Central debentures, 2½ to 101; Wabash, Chicago division, 7s of 1879, 2½ to 93; Ohio Southern incomes

Chicago, Ill., May 2.—The deliveries on May wheat contracts were quite liberal this morning, and were nearly all taken by the various houses supposed to be operating for the bull clique. The decrease in the visible supply was 1,36+,000 bu-hels, which was not quite so large as had generally been expected. The clearings from the staboard aggregated 336,000 bush-els. Traders were cautions, neverthe-less large aggregate business was transacted. Values showed little transacted. Values showed little change, however, fluctuations being confined to narrow limits. May opened at 81½c, sold up to 81½c, dropped off to 80½c, rose to 81½c and closed at 81½c. June commanded a premium of 1 cent over May. There was a fair degrees of activity in corn, and the de-crease of 560,000 bushels in the visible supply imparted a little firmer tone to than on Saturday. Oats ruled a shade stronger.
